

Thank-you for a most memorable travel experience. We enjoyed it very much. I was a bit apprehensive about trekking alone with a 10 and a 15 year old. Granted, the boys are used to long hikes, but the idea of going solo in the Sudety was unnerving. We found the experience that you and Sylvia provided to strike the perfect balance between the comforts of home and rugged mountain terrain and beauty. Sylvia's expert knowledge of the region's history, geography and geology is a testimony of the Wonderer's commitment to a stellar trekking experience. As we hiked, Sylvia would point out local flora or fauna or interject with an interesting historical anecdote which made the places we visited and saw all the more relevant and memorable.

Like in any mountainous terrain, the weather can be unpredictable. It is perhaps in this respect that the experience and knowledge of professional guides such as Sylvia is invaluable. On a couple of occasions we changed our route due to potential weather conditions. As a result, we were able to enjoy the regions beauty and hospitality in near perfect conditions.

Many, many thanks again both of you for your sincere effort, and a well planned, well organized and culturally rich trekking experience.

Sincerely,

Eva, Josh and Sam
